To Whom It May Concern:

I first consulted with John Pack in June of 1998, to discuss problems with my pool. The pool continued to leak, in spite of repair work done by other contractors on several occasions. Although John had not built my pool, he had come highly recommended by Country Leisure Pool Supply and several other people as the "problem solver."

With almost no notice, and at the height of the July 4th season, John took the time to appraise the pool. He assessed and repaired the leaks, and then the causes. He stayed well past dark on several days to get the job done before the July 4th holiday.

I have found John to be a highly dedicated professional, who is well-versed in the new, high tech methods and materials that make pools environmentally efficient, and low maintenance. I would not hesitate to recommend him to anyone needing these types of services.

Sincerely yours,
